

J R PERRY ENTERTAINMENT CV

Bio – Productions – Business – charity

J.R. Perry IIIAt the age of 3 years old J.R. became interested in music. Before long J.R. was singing, and it was apparent that he was born with a gift. J.R. was encouraged to develop and strengthen his young voice. As J.R. worked with his talented voice it became clear that he had another talent- songwriting. At the age of 9 years old he wrote his first song. It seemed that J.R. was destined for success in the entertainment industry.

As time went on J.R. continued his musical aspirations in many forms. J.R. was the innovator of many musical groups throughout the 1970's and 1980's. Not only leading and cultivating groups, but also performing. J.R. also excelled as an instrumentalist. He plays the keyboards, trombone, bass guitar- as well as performs the task of drum programmer. J.R. has developed many types of musical productions exhibiting his talent to sing the diverse musical genre spectrum from R&B, Hip-Hop, Pop, Gospel, Funk, and Jazz. J.R. excels in areas of vocals where his 4 1/2 to 5 octave range is stressed.

A highly diversified individual, it was not long before J.R. discovered his many other talents in the entertainment field. Before long he was performing and writing voice overs and jingles which lead to his interest in television. In addition to singing, and television, J.R. started a record production company adding entrepreneur to his resume.

With a love for music, J.R. started his own record label, Pro-Per Records. In addition to owning and operating the label J.R. is also involved in performing and songwriting. J.R. has released a hit single entitled "Valentine Lover" which was played on various radio stations in the United States , and widely accepted in Europe . Pro-Per Productions the parent company established for further diversification.

Always looking for new challenges- 1983 seemed to be the year for television. J.R. was offered the opportunity to produce a cable access show. Thus the J.R. Perry Show was born. With a love for the entertainment industry and his community the two areas fused together well for his show. The J.R. Perry Show was a sit-down host-guest format, incorporating interviews with renowned musical guests as well as community leaders. The show also highlighted sizzling musical videos and live performances excerpts. With a firm track record for over 12 years, the show had a loyal following, which always delivered on the shows motto "Together We'll Make A Difference."

J.R. has been acknowledged repeatedly by various civic leaders, and industry insiders for the positive elements of his empire. Wearing so many hats may be difficult for some, but not for someone such as J.R. Perry III, with a true love for the business, and persevearance to succeed.

Currently J.R. is working on various projects for Pro- Per Productions. These projects include songwriting, musical arrangement, and television development. Also J.R. is performing voice overs for radio and television, he has written and produced plays and sitcoms ready for the stage or television. J.R. has also written and produced various genders of music ready to be released in the marketplace.

With the devotion and dedication to his art, J.R. Perry's diversity will prevail.
